1. Executive Summary

Over a six-week internship project, our team planned, executed, and optimized a full-funnel digital marketing campaign for “Social Connect,” a community-based social networking app that helps people discover and join interest-based local groups and events. The campaign progressed from foundational brand-awareness content (Weeks 1–3) into advanced multi-channel acquisition tactics (Week 4), data-driven optimization and community building (Week 5), and finally consolidation, reporting, and presentation (Week 6).

Across the full campaign, mock activity generated 540,200 impressions, 312,500 reach, and 23,800 engagements, driving 18,650 link clicks and 5,240 simulated app downloads — a 28% download growth between Week 4 and Week 6 alone. Follower count grew from 12,400 to 38,700 (a 212% increase). The campaign's biggest wins were the influencer and retargeting tracks, which together accounted for the highest conversion efficiency, and the shift toward authentic, UGC-style short-form video, which outperformed polished static ads on engagement rate.

This report consolidates the Week 6 deliverables: the campaign summary, performance metrics, content portfolio reference, and the final presentation, along with the key learnings and recommendations that would inform a future iteration of this campaign.

2. Campaign Goals & Initial Strategy

2.1 Original Objectives (Weeks 1–3 Recap)

The initial phase of the campaign established the foundation that Weeks 4–6 built upon. Original goals were:

- Build initial brand awareness for Social Connect among 18–34-year-old urban users interested in hobbies, networking, and local community events.
- Establish a consistent content calendar and visual identity across Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn.
- Launch baseline paid social ads to validate messaging and audience targeting.
- Grow an initial follower base and begin collecting engagement data to inform later optimization.

2.2 Initial Strategies Deployed

- Organic content calendar: 3–4 posts/week mixing app feature highlights, community spotlights, and lifestyle content.
- Baseline Facebook and Instagram ad sets targeting broad interest categories (hobbies, fitness, local events).
- Early-stage analytics setup to benchmark reach, impressions, and engagement before scaling in Week 4.

3. Campaign Timeline Overview

The table below summarizes how strategy evolved week-over-week, showing the throughline from awareness to conversion to community retention.

Phase	Focus	Key Actions
Weeks 1–3	Foundation & Awareness	Content calendar setup, baseline paid ads, initial audience targeting, follower base growth (12,400 → 20,300)
Week 4	Advanced Techniques & Expansion	Influencer outreach (8 contacted, 5 confirmed), mock SEM campaigns, engagement-driven social content (polls/contests), retargeting ad launch, content repurposed to LinkedIn & Reddit
Week 5	Data Analysis & Community Building	Analytics deep-dive, live Instagram Q&A (1,200 attendees), 3-email drip campaign, A/B testing on retargeting CTAs, content optimization
Week 6	Finalization & Presentation	Campaign summary report, content portfolio compilation, final presentation, full submission package

4. Adjustments Made During the Campaign

Mid-campaign data review (Week 5) prompted four concrete strategic pivots:

- Budget reallocation: Shifted approximately 20% of planned ad spend from Facebook to Instagram Reels after Reels consistently outperformed static Facebook posts on engagement rate (9.1% vs. 4.3%).
- Creative direction: Reduced highly polished studio-style ad creatives in favor of authentic, UGC-style short-form video after audience research and comment sentiment showed a stronger trust response to casual, relatable content.
- CTA language: Replaced generic CTAs (“Learn More”) with action-and-belonging language (“Join Your Community Today”) across retargeting ads following A/B test results (Section 8).
- Retargeting investment: Increased retargeting ad budget mid-campaign after early data showed a 6.2% conversion rate — more than double the 2.8% conversion rate of cold-audience prospecting ads.

5. Key Performance Metrics

5.1 Headline Numbers

540,200 Total Impressions	312,500 Total Reach	7.4% Engagement Rate	5,240 App Downloads
-------------------------------------	-------------------------------	--------------------------------	-------------------------------

5.2 Platform-Wise Performance

Engagement Share by Platform

Platform	Engagement Rate	Top Format	Notable Result
Instagram	9.1%	Reels & Story Polls	Highest engagement & shares
Facebook	4.3%	Live Q&A / Groups	1,200 live event attendees
LinkedIn	5.6%	Repurposed Articles	Strong reach with 25–40 professionals
Reddit	3.8%	Community Discussion Posts	High authenticity, lower direct CTR

5.3 Audience Growth

Cross-Platform Follower Growth

Figure 3: Cross-platform follower growth, Week 1 to Week 6 (+212% overall).

5.4 Audience Demographics & Behavior

Audience Age Distribution

- Gender split: 54% female, 44% male, 2% other/undisclosed.
- Top locations: Lahore, Karachi, Islamabad, and Dubai led engagement volume.
- Device behavior: 89% of engagement occurred on mobile; peak activity windows were 7–9 PM local time.

6. Best-Performing Content

Content Piece	Platform	Engagement	Why It Worked
“Which Weekend Meetup Are You Joining?” poll	Instagram	11.4K interactions	Low-effort participation, taps into FOMO
“5 Signs You Need a New Hobby Squad” Reel	Instagram	8.9K interactions	Relatable, humorous, UGC-style filming
Live Q&A: “Ask Us Anything About Social Connect”	Facebook	1,200 live attendees	Real-time, builds trust and community
“How Community Apps Are Reshaping Urban Friendship” article	LinkedIn	3.4K reactions	Thought-leadership angle resonated with professionals
Retargeting ad — “Join Your Community Today”	Instagram/FB	4.8% CTR	Belonging-driven CTA outperformed generic copy

7. A/B Testing & Content Optimization

One retargeting ad was selected for structured A/B testing to validate the CTA language hypothesis raised during Week 5 analytics review.

A/B Test: Click-Through Rate (Version A vs. B)

- Version A (control): Generic CTA “Learn More,” neutral product-shot creative — 3.1% CTR.
- Version B (variant): CTA “Join Your Community Today,” creative featuring real user testimonial overlay — 4.8% CTR.

- Result: Version B adopted as the standard retargeting creative for the remainder of the campaign.

Underperforming content was also revisited: an early static carousel ad with low engagement (1.2%) was retired and replaced with short-form video using the same offer, which improved engagement to 5.7% once relaunched.

8. Engagement & Community Building

- Hosted a live Instagram/Facebook Q&A session with 1,200 attendees and a 92% positive sentiment rating in comments.
- Collected 14 user testimonials highlighting ease of finding local meetups and a sense of belonging created by the app.
- Launched a 3-email drip campaign (welcome → feature highlight → re-engagement) achieving a 27% open rate and 8.6% click-through rate, with 410 simulated conversions attributed to the sequence.

9. Lessons Learned

- Authenticity consistently outperformed polish — UGC-style and behind-the-scenes content drove higher engagement than studio-produced creative.
- Belonging-oriented messaging (“join your community”) converts better than generic action language for a social/community product.
- Retargeting delivered the highest ROI of any channel tested, reinforcing the value of warm-audience remarketing over broad prospecting.
- Structured A/B testing, even on a single ad element, produced a statistically meaningful and actionable result within days.
- Live, real-time engagement (the Q&A session) built measurably more trust signals (comments, shares, saves) than scheduled static content.
- Email nurture sequences remain effective for moving warm leads toward conversion when paired with social retargeting.
